WELCOME LETTER

The 46th Scientific Assembly of the Committee on Space Research (COSPAR), will be held 1 - 9 August 2026 at the Fortezza da Basso in the historic and inspiring city of Florence, Italy.

It is a great pleasure and honor for COSPAR to organize this Scientific Assembly in collaboration with our host, the Italian National Institute for Astrophysics (INAF), uniting the global community of space researchers in a shared pursuit of knowledge and progress.

Italy's space sector continues to play a vital role on the global stage, driven by a commitment to innovation, international cooperation, and sustainable development. With its strong scientific institutions and a forward-looking space agenda, Italy provides a fitting backdrop for an Assembly focused on securing an exciting future through space research.

Therefore, we welcome space industry, stakeholders and academic organizations to join us as sponsors or exhibitors. COSPAR 2026 offers a unique opportunity to showcase your commitment to innovative space technology, science and exploration endeavors, connect with a global audience, and support meaningful international collaboration in this vital field.

We encourage all potential attendees, presenters, sponsors, and exhibitors to become involved in COSPAR 2026 which is sure to be a week of groundbreaking research, meaningful dialogue, memorable experiences, and networking.

MEET FLORENCE

Florence is renowned for its rich history, stunning architecture, and world-class art. As the birthplace of the Renaissance, it boasts iconic landmarks such as the Duomo, Ponte Vecchio, and Uffizi Gallery, home to masterpieces by Michelangelo, Leonardo da Vinci, and Botticelli. Florence's surrounding areas, including the scenic Chianti wine region and the historic towns of Siena and Pisa, offer breathtaking landscapes, vineyards, and medieval architecture. This combination of cultural heritage, artistic treasures, and picturesque countryside makes Florence a captivating destination.

ABOUT CONGRESS

The COSPAR 46th Scientific Assembly will be held in the historic and inspiring city of Florence, Italy.

DATE:	August 1-9, 2026
VENUE:	Fortezza da Basso - Florence, Italy
HOST & ORGANIZER:	INAF
ORGANIZING SECRETARIAT:	AIM Group International Florence office cospar2026@aimgroup.eu
SPONSOR & EXHIBITION:	cospar2026.sponsor@aimgroup.eu

What?

- The biennial COSPAR Scientific Assembly is a must in the global space research calendar, and the most important event for the COSPAR community and wider space science sector.
- This is where leading scientists, researchers, space agencies, major industry players and stakeholder meet to network, exchange ideas, start cooperation
- It is the perfect opportunity to discuss the latest findings in space research, as well the next decade future plans. In short, it is a true forum, open to all scientists, to promote at an international level discussion of any issues affecting scientific space research.
- During the Assembly key figures such as representatives of the 48 National Members, the 13 international Scientific Union and the 23 Chairs of the Scientific Commissions, Panels and Task Groups take part in the Council meeting or other discussions to decide the future of COSPAR.
- Roundtables, panel events, the many scientific sessions and lectures, are the Scientific Assembly core, and there are plenty of opportunities to network – and gain visibility – during the coffee breaks, breakfasts, business meetings and cocktail events organized at the Fortezza da Basso meeting location in the city center during an exciting nine days of events.

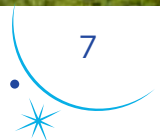

Who?

The COSPAR Scientific Assemblies usually attract 3,000+ participants from around the world. Attendees range from doctoral students to early and midcareer researchers, scientists and engineers working in academia, industry and publishing as well as science teachers, start-up entrepreneurs and representatives from major space agencies or new and emerging spacefaring nations.

Why?

Florence2026 Scientific Assembly is a unique opportunity to:

- observe and to promote state-of-the-art contemporary space science, and grasp the future outlook
- to network in the leading Italian scientific and space industry arena,
- to connect with colleagues and make new contacts,
- to recruit, to learn about new products and services,
- and to share your passion for space science, and exploration.

PARTICIPANTS PROFILE

- Scientists and Researchers: Experts in astronomy, astrophysics, planetary science, Earth sciences, space biology, space physics, and related fields. AI and ML worldwide experts.
- Space Engineers: Professionals developing technologies for space missions, satellites, scientific instruments, and exploration systems.
- Academics and University Faculty: Professors and researchers affiliated with universities, research institutions, startups, and space industries
- PhD Candidates and University Students: Young and early career researchers and students in STEM fields with an interest in space sciences.

The background of the poster is a deep blue night sky filled with numerous stars of varying brightness. A prominent, bright blue star with eight sharp points is located in the upper right quadrant. A thin, light blue arc curves from the left side of the frame, passing behind the text. A small white dot is positioned above the arc, near the top center. At the bottom of the image, the dark silhouette of a city skyline is visible, featuring a prominent tower with a pointed roof and a domed structure on the right.
